FISH BITES

The Marlins and Padres open a three-game weekend set tonight at 7:10 p.m. at Marlins Park. The Fish will send right-hander David Phelps to the mound. He made his first career appearance against the Friars last Saturday in San Diego, taking the loss in a 3-1 game after allowing two runs on six hits and a walk over 6.0 innings, with five strikeouts. The Padres will call on righty Ian Kennedy, who also pitched in last Saturday’s meeting and sports a 4-1, 2.89 career record against the Fish after earning the win in that start, the seventh of his career vs. Miami. The Marlins are 1-2 on this homestand after dropping a midweek set to Washington, and will conclude the stand with three games against the Mets (August 3-5). The Fish are coming off a 5-7 road trip to Philadelphia (0-3), Arizona (2-1), and San Diego (1-3) to open the second half. Todays National Anthem will be performed by Julio Offerman, and ceremonial first pitches will be thrown out by Westling Entertainment Hall-of-Famer Mick Foley and Fish Family member Cristopher Estrada.

VS. THE PADRES

Miami trails the series against the Padres after dropping three of four games in a set last weekend in San Diego. The Marlins are 2-7 against the Friars since having a five-game winning streak against them snapped on April 6 of last season. The last eight meetings between these Clubs prior to tonight have been in California; prior to that, they had played seven straight games here at Marlins Park, with the Fish going 5-2. The Padres lead the all-time series, 89-80, and are 46-42 in South Florida, but just 3-7 at Marlins Park.

TRANSACTIONS

Following yesterday’s game, the Marlins traded RHP Mat Latos and INF Michael Morse to the Dodgers in exchange for Minor League right-handed pitchers Jeff Brigham and Victor Araujo, as part of a team deal that also sent Miami’s 2016 competitive balance pick to Atlanta. Also following the game, Miami reinserted INF Donovan Solano from the Paternity List. Today the Club released INF Jeff Baker and recalled RHP Jose Urena from Triple-A New Orleans; Urena will make the start for Miami tomorrow. The Marlins also made two trades today. RHP Don Haren was traded to the Cubs in exchange for two Minor League players, INF Elliot Soto and RHP Ivan Pineyro (both assigned to Double-A Jacksonville). Also, RHP David Phelps was traded to Texas for C Tomas Telis (#11) and Minor League LHP Cody Ege (assigned to Jacksonville).

YESTERDAY

The Fish suffered their second just-1-0 loss to the Nationals here at Marlins Park. The lone run of the game came on Ryan Zimmerman in the second inning. Miami mustered just three hits against Max Scherzer, Drew Storen, and Jonathan Papelbon. Two of them came off the bat of Christian Yelich, who also recorded his 10th stolen base. Miami was 0x3 with runners in scoring position. Don Haren got the start for Miami and took the loss, allowing just the one hit on four runs and two walks, with four strikeouts.

STINGY HOMEOWNER

David Phelps has allowed just one home run over 40.0 innings at Marlins Park this season. According to Stats LLC, he is tied with Justin Ross (52.1 ip) and Chris Hernandez (70.7 ip) for the second-fewest home runs allowed at home this season (min. 40.0 ip), behind Scott Kazmir (73.2) and Dallas Keuchel (79.2), who have yet to allow a long ball at home.

FEAST OR FAME

David Phelps, who has a 3.15 ERA at Marlins Park this season (nine games, six starts), was the beneficiary of 11 runs of support in a 12-2 win over the Yankees here in South Florida on June 16. In four starts since then, however, he has received just three total runs of support and a 4.01 ERA in April, 22

MARKED IMPROVEMENT

Miami’s pitching staff ranked 17th in the Majors with a 4.01 ERA in April, 22nd at 4.12 in May, and 18th at 3.85 in June. That has changed drastically in the month of July, however, as the Fish have posted a 2.59 ERA this month, the best mark in the Majors, according to Stats LLC. St. Louis ranks second, at 3.98. Miami’s game as a pinch hitter in the bottom of the sixth inning and hit a two-run home run to give the Marlins a 5-4 lead over the Expo.

UPCOMING STARTERS

Chicago Suzuki recorded career hit #2,900 Wednesday night with an RBI double in the second inning, and then added #2,901 in the fourth. Suzuki, who is 38th on the all-time list, is also the active leader in stolen bases (46), and ranks 23rd on the all-time list (since 1898, modern stolen base rule).

According to Elias, he would become just the eighth player ever to reach 2,900 hits and 500 steals, joining Ty Cobb (4,191/903), Honus Wagner (3,430/724), Jeff Bagwell (3,044/681), and Larry Walker (3,034/696). He has lifted his season average to .257 in that time (+.064). His batting average since that date ranks fourth in the National League, behind Giancarlo P. (14), Jesus Cespedes (47/47), and RHP Jose Urena (4-1, 4.40). The Fish have posted a 1.16 ERA this month, best in the Majors (see next note for more details).

The rotation has posted the sixth-best ERA in the National League this month (3.21), while Marlins’ starting pitchers have allowed more than three earned runs in a start just three times since June 27, a span of 27 outings, and have a 3.13 ERA in that time. Meanwhile, the bullpen has posted a 1.16 ERA this month, best in the Majors (see next note for more details).

Miami’s pitching staff ranked 17th in the Majors with a 4.01 ERA in April, 22nd at 4.12 in May, and 18th at 3.85 in June. That has changed drastically in the month of July, however, as the Fish have posted a 2.59 ERA this month, the best mark in the Majors, according to Stats LLC. St. Louis ranks second, at 3.98. Miami’s game as a pinch hitter in the bottom of the sixth inning and hit a two-run home run to give the Marlins a 5-4 lead over the Expo.

In 2004, Paul Lo Duca entered his first Marlins game as a pinch hitter in the bottom of the sixth inning and hit a two-run home run to give the Marlins a 5-4 lead over the Expos. Montreal would score four runs in the following frame to take the victory. Lo Duca is one of 15 Marlins players to homer in their first game with the Club.

Overall record on this date: 9-11

A HEALTHY YELI IS A GOOD YELI

Since June 27, when he entered the day with a .227 average for the season, Christian Yelich is batting .354 (34x94) in 27 games, with six doubles, a home run, eight RBIs, 14 walks and 13 strikeouts, and a .441 on-base percentage. He has lifted his season average to .257 in that time (+.064). His batting average since that date ranks fourth in the National League, behind Giancarlo P. (.423), Joey Votto (.371), and DJ LeMahieu (.370), while his OBP ranks sixth.
